You - A college student looking for real-world experience.

We’re looking for someone who can fill one of the following roles after spring semester ends and before fall begins:

- Video Production - From pre- to post-production, you would be a gopher and sponge rolled into one. You’d learn about what it takes to schedule and run a shoot, while also seeing how the footage you help capture turns into a polished, final product.
- Marketing and Sales - See how campaigns start and how to speak to the B2B audience.
- Social Media - Work on our behind-the-scenes content. Edit, post or write alongside our team to document our journey.
- YouTube Optimization - Help research and implement the best practices when dealing with YouTube. Do you like watching YouTube videos? You’ll get paid to do it!

If you’re tired of looking at internships that only give you experience, then take a look at what we’re offering.

We’ll provide you a round-trip ticket, a place to stay during your internship and pay for the work (approximately 30 to 40 hours per week) you do for us. Additionally, we’ll provide tickets to the Oregon Zoo, OMSI and the Portland Art Museum. (There’s a catch - you have to go to them with our Rockstar Executive Assistant, but once you’re past the gate, you can go your own way.) All the while, you’ll be living in an awesome city with exciting things to do when you’re not working.

How can you land this sweet gig? It doesn’t matter if you’re an introvert or an extrovert, the criteria is the same.

We’re looking for someone who can zig and zag without hesitation. We don’t want to hold your hand; we need you to know when to ask for help, but have the confidence to forge ahead when appropriate. You need to be a go-getter and make-doer. We need someone who can think critically and solve problems. We want someone who wants to or is willing to switch between pre-production, production, post-production, marketing, social media and anything else we throw at them. Of course, if you have a preference for any of these aspects, please let us know in your cover letter.

The most important thing to land this gig is to think about how you’d fit in with our team. Our core values are who we are and why we come to the office every day. This means we’re searching for someone who is a great match with our company’s core values:

- Be a rock star, but don’t act like one
- Envision the goal before you roll
- Assume positive intent and energize others
- Cultivate kaizen
- Understand to be understood
- Team first!
- Engage in proactive, unfiltered, effective communication
- Practice mutual accountability
- Under-promise and over-deliver
- Give and expect respect

Write us a cover letter/mini essay about how you fit each of these ten core values (we want examples!) and what you’d bring to the table. Spruce up your resume and include a link to your portfolio with work that would be applicable to the kind of work you’d like to do this summer. Don’t forget to check us out online at funnelbox.com.

Applications are due by 6 p.m. MST (5 p.m. PST) Friday, April 15, to hr@funnelbox.com with the subject line “U of A Internship Summer 2016.”
