THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON
April 27, 1976

Dear Mr. Ridge:

Warmest congratulations to you, your journalism students, and readers as you celebrate the ninety-sixth anniversary of The Tombstone Epitaph.

I welcome this opportunity to pay tribute to all those who have been a part of your successful publication and to commend those who continue to build on its fine journalistic and historic traditions. I can well understand the pride you and the members of the University must take in the Epitaph, and in the distinguished service it has provided the people of Arizona throughout the past century.

Today, as in the past, The Tombstone Epitaph carries the vital information affecting the life of your community and helps our citizens make informed decisions about their city, their country and their world.

You have my best wishes for continued success in the years ahead.

Sincerely,
